

ACHARYA N. G. RANGA AGRICULTURAL UNIVERSITY
S V AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE: TIRUPATI
NATIONAL SERVICE SCHEME (NSS)

Date: (26-08-2020) conducted Vanamahotvam programme

As a part of Vanamahotvam programme, today the NSS volunteers along with teaching and non-teaching staff of SVAC has participated in planting of saplings. Nearly 200 saplings have been planted in the Wetland premises, S V Agricultural College, Tirupati.

In this programme, Dr Ravindranatha Reddy, Associate Dean, S V Agricultural College, Tirupati addresses importance of forest plants for future agriculture. In this occasion Dr. B.M.K. Reddy, Chairman, AP Biodiversity, Andhra Pradesh expressed the role of forestry plants in particularly very rare species of forest plants (Medicine plants) uttered proposed to AP Government to start Red sandal Research Institute at Tirupati. He talked about patents of plants like turmeric in international wise and what are the problems facing on patents in India. In this function attended Dr L Prasanthi, ADR, RARS, Tirupati, Nagarujuna Reddy, DFO, Siva Kumar, Forest Range Officer, Swami Vivekananda, Regional Manager, Ramanjunaya Reddy, NETCAP, OSD, Arunodaya, NGO, NSS officer, College teaching and non-teaching staff.

